- b. Criteria:
  - (1) Recipient must be a living member of the Society.
  - (2) The accomplishment or at least a significant phase of it must occur while the recipient is a member of the Society.
  - (3) The accomplishment clearly must be in the technical management or engineering aspects of aerospace technology.

- e. Description: The J. H. Doolittle Trophy is a bronze award mounted on a teakwood base. At the base of the award is a helmet and goggles symbolizing Jimmy Doolittle and the basic tools of the early test pilot. Above this the base has a form representing the scientist/engineer supporting the elements of technology. These are symbolized by a winged aero-dynamic shape. A spacecraft is embedded on top of the winged shape symbolizing the continued growth of the aerospace vehicle. From this spacecraft a figure which is half man and half winged, symbolizing the pilot, is seen in an attitude reaching forward. The entire structure is angled upward to give a feeling of stretching toward new goals. The permanent trophy is the property of the Society, but each year's winner shall receive a small symbolic memento for retention.

Section 4. Revocation of Award

The Society places great emphasis on the prestige and exclusiveness of their awards and takes great care to ensure the selection criteria are both fair and honorable. Every effort will be made by the Society to ensure each award is made in accordance with established rules, practices, and with proper vetting. An award bestowed by the Society, however, may be subject to subsequent revocation if it becomes evident that the nomination was a misrepresentation of fact and puts the legitimacy of the award in question.

If derogative or contradictory information is presented to the Society, it will be brought to the Board of Directors to decide if there is sufficient evidence to warrant an investigation. If it is the majority opinion of the Board of Directors that there is sufficient evidence to warrant an investigation, the President shall appoint an Investigating Board consisting of six members of the Society. All members of the Investigating Board must be members in the grade of at least Member and at least two of the members must be Fellows. The President of the Society shall designate the Chairman of the Investigating Board.

Any derogatory or contradictory information must be provided in writing and signed by the person providing the information. The awardee accused of a fraudulent misrepresentation shall be furnished with a copy of the contradictory information and shall be given ample opportunity to refute the information either in person or by counsel before the Investigating Board at a hearing to be called by the Board.

At least three members of the Investigating Board shall be present at any hearing under this Section. The hearing will be closed to other persons unless specifically invited to appear as witnesses by the Investigating Board or serving as the administrative secretary for the hearing. The Investigation Board will then meet to make their revocation ruling. Voting will be done by secret ballot. A vote for revocation by a minimum of two-thirds of the six-member Investigating Board shall be required for revocation of the award. In the absence of a two-thirds vote for revocation, the awardee shall retain the award.
